ONTABA's 2020 Annual Conference FAQ's

Can I purchase a ticket to attend one day of the conference?
We are not offering one day registrations. We have consent to share all of the invited speakers' talks for one month on the Whova platform. Pending consent of the other presenters, talks will be available for one year.

Is the conference going to be recorded?
Yes! Attendees will have access to invited speakers' talks for one month. All other presentations will be available for one year on the Whova platform, pending the consent of presenters.

What topics will be covered at the conference?
The presentation topics this year are focused on ethics/supervision, behaviour analysis and artificial intelligence, best practices for online learning, and race/diversity. There will be 4 invited speakers as well as posters and symposia presentations, offering a wide variety of topics in the field. Our Fall newsletter contains more details about our invited speakers (Dr. Janet Twyman, Stelios Georgiades, Dr. Marc Lanovaz, and Dr. Linda LeBlanc). For more information, you can check out our social media platforms on Facebook and Instagram (@ontaba1).

Is there a poster session option only for the conference?
Ticket registration options include 2-day registration for the event this year because attendees will have access to talks on-demand after the event for one year for presentations (for speakers who consent) and one month for keynote speakers' talks.

If I am presenting a poster do I need to attend the conference?
If your poster is accepted and you are not able to attend, you can assign a new presenter who can register for the conference or you can withdraw your submission. We ask that you communicate any changes to the presenter or authors by sending an email to contact@ontaba.org. Please see the list of fees below. If you are not already an ONTABA member, the cost of registration is lower if you become a member.
